	The following is extracted from the Department of Housing, Local Government and Heritage press release dated 29 September 2023: "Minister for Housing, Local Government and Heritage, Darragh O Brien, today confirmed the State's purchase of the World Heritage lands of Dowth Hall and demesne, including Netterville, in Co. Meath and the establishment of a new National Park – the Boyne Valley (Brú na Bóinne) National Park. The property is 552 acres in size, and is a cultural and natural heritage site of national and international importance. It includes Dowth Hall, an eighteenth century neoclassical country house, and Netterville Manor, a late Victorian almshouse. The lands amount to approximately one third of the total area of the UNESCO World Heritage Property of Brú na Bóinne, which includes the great Neolithic passage tombs of Newgrange, Knowth and Dowth ."		Based on the availa press release, the P establishment of the
